

Newham

Newham is a green little gem with Red Aphid resistance in the Spretnak class. It is a traditional little gem with smooth outer leaves and velvety light green color.

While Newham is a top-performing variety in the field, it also has old-fashioned home garden flavor. Customers will appreciate the blanched, well-filled hearts, crunchy texture, and surprisingly sweet flavor. Pair with dark red Vitalis mini romaine Truchas for a beautiful display of contrasting colors and leaf shapes.

Newham forms upright, V-shaped heads with excellent fill. Strong tipburn resistance and smooth veins make this variety a standout. Newham is well-adapted for year-round production in coastal regions. In hot summer growing areas, Newham is recommended for winter, spring, and fall production as high temperatures can trigger side shoot formation in this variety. For uniform harvest, transplant or thin to 6" apart.

Newham provides Downy Mildew (Bl, CA), Red aphid (Nr:0), Tomato Bushy Stunt Virus (TBSV), and Lettuce Root Aphid (Pb) resistance for organic growing conditions.

HARVEST PERIOD: Fall, Winter, Spring everywhere, plus Summer in coastal regions.

RESISTANCE: HR: Bl:16-21,23-26,28-32/CA1-8/Nr:0/Pb.

IR: Lettuce Mosaic Virus (LMV:1); Corky Root (Ss).
